Libraries provide a rock on which to anchor lifelong learning.

and test proficiency fills in for real education,

While the educational divide between the haves and have-nots grows—

Algorithms proliferate, curating the information they think you should have based on the cauldron of trash that feeds them—

LIBRARIES find you the information that is true and trustworthy, and work with you side by side to get it.

Libraries stand for
- democracy-
and provide ashared place and resources for all citizens to succeed.

and we exist for the many, not the few.

Because libraries value you.

Not your money

Not your data

Not these

You.

As a person and a citizen.

As a society, we've decided that we don't want to live in a world where only those who can afford it have access to information.

Libraries fight to access for the good of all society

Not just a handful of stockholders.

The right book to the right person at the right time can change the world.

- with "friends" often little more than this, and relationships mediated by screens.

Libraries provide real human connection - for many people, the only human connection they get.

We're more connected than ever, and yet lonelier -

LIBRARIES SHOW THE WAY

Things can be better.

SHARE

BECAUSE LIBRARY VALUES MATTER.

Thomas Vose CC-BY-NC 12/21/24
trvose@hotmail.com